

Contents: Volume 4, Issue 1, 2015

Literature in Practice

- Short stories in multilingual English composition in China by Justin Nicholes (8-20)
- Conceptualising and implementing an action research project targeted at improving secondary school students' English language comprehension skills through literature by Ian Tan (21-34)
- Student autonomy through creativity by Susan Laura Sullivan (35-53)

Conference Reports

JALT PanSIG 2015 Presentations

- The Twits* by Roald Dahl introduced by Frances Shiobara (54-55)
- The Summer of The Black Widows* by Sherman Alexie introduced by Suzanne Kamata (56-57)
- Texts that work: Three suggested literary texts for the language classroom by Simon Bibby (58-59)
- The Song of Hiawatha: impact and uses by Cameron Smith (60-61)
- Authentic tasks and testing for university English literature classes by Neil Conway (62-63)
- Boosting cultural awareness through short stories by Gregg McNabb (64-65)

Liberlit 2015

- Conference report on the sixth LiberLit conference, Meiji Gakuin University by Neil Addison and Tara McIlroy (66-72)

Announcements

- Information on the next issue of The Journal of Literature in Language Teaching (73)
- Submission guidelines and contact information for authors (74)